

Year 1 Homework Challenge 09.05.11

This week in Literacy we will be learning about traditional stories. It would help all children to have a go at telling traditional stories orally. They can be British stories or stories from other countries.

We are thinking about adding and subtracting in maths. If there are chances for your child to add and subtract at home (in the park, in the shop, in the kitchen etc.), it will help them understand the importance and relevance of these skills.

Thank you,
Year 1
